This Handbook has been compiled by the Queensland Spinal Cord Injuries Service of the Princess Alexandra Hospital for the purpose of providing patients and their families with information and guidance on the care and treatment of spinal cord injuries. It has not been published, sold or reproduced for commercial gain (other than to recover costs). The contents of the Handbook cover the medical aspects of spinal injuries in a general way and are not designed to express opinions on specific cases. Further advice should be obtained from suitably qualified medical practitioners and health care providers before taking or relying on any topic dealt with in this Handbook.
