

How to access my immunisation records

All vaccinations given to people in Australia should be recorded on the Australian Immunisation Register (AIR) by your doctor or immunisation provider.

The immunisation record is called an AIR immunisation history statement. Everyone from 14 years of age can access their own immunisation record.

There are a number of ways to get your AIR immunisation history statement:

-  1. Ask your doctor to print you a copy from AIR
or
-  2. Call AIR on 1800 653 809
or
-  3. Visit a local Medicare service centre
To find a Medicare service centre near you, go to the website <https://findus.humanservices.gov.au> and enter your location, for example, the suburb or street you live in.
or

4. Go to the myGov website <https://my.gov.au>

1. Click on Create an account and agree to the terms and conditions.

Overseas immunisation records

If you have overseas immunisation records take them to your doctor and ask your doctor to update your immunisation record on AIR. If the overseas records are not in English, you can get them translated by the free Translating Service of the Department of Social Services. Read more about this service at www.translating.dss.gov.au.
