Nephrology

Training preference guide

RMO Campaign 2020

In Queensland, advanced training positions in Nephrology are managed centrally through the Queensland Advanced Training in Nephrology Pathway. Applicants must familiarise themselves with the requirements outlined on the Queensland Advanced Training in Nephrology Pathway webpage.

New and current trainees need to complete the Queensland Advanced Training in Nephrology Pathway section within the online RMO application to be considered.

Once you have nominated YES and complete the subsequent questions, you will be asked to preference 5 tertiary hospitals in your order of preference from 1 to 5:

RMO application: Step 10 Preferences

In Step 10: Preferences section of the online RMO application, to be considered by the Queensland Advanced Training in Nephrology Pathway, you MUST complete your first preference as follows:

As up to 5 preferences may be recorded as part of the application, it is recommended that applicants utilise a lower preference to indicate which positions they may be interested in if they are not selected to their preferred positions. You can search for alternative vacancies by using the Position search tool on the RMO website.

For further information on the individual facilities including contact details, please refer the Participating hospital contacts and facility profiles page on the RMO Campaign website.
