

Programs and courses 2022

The Intensive Care Training Pathway aims to improve equity of access to training and education in intensive care units in Queensland. The pathway supports trainees and doctors working in intensive care medicine by distributing information about existing educational programs and activities and by supporting the development and dissemination of state-wide educational initiatives.

Pathway supported activities

In collaboration with the College of Intensive Care Medicine of Australia and New Zealand (CICM) and the Queensland Regional Committee (QRC), the pathway supports and promotes:

State-wide Intensive Care Education Committee meetings

- Committee promotes and advances the education and training needs of medical officers working in intensive care units in Queensland. The committee includes Queensland intensive care specialists, supervisors of training (SOTs), CICM and trainee representatives.

Annual trainee mapping meeting

- Trainees are asked to complete a mapping document which assists the pathway to plan future rotations to enable trainee completion of CICM requirements in a timely manner.

Pathway education calendar

- Queensland course and program information are circulated to trainees.

Junior Registrar teaching programs

- Queensland Intensive Care Junior Registrar Education Program (QuIC-JREP) - program covers a curriculum of core ICU topics and learning objectives aimed specifically at junior registrars working in ICU. Weekly teaching sessions held via Microsoft Teams.
- Basic Sciences Primary Program - a state-wide CICM primary teaching program aimed at CICM primary candidates. This program supports the various primary programs currently offered by many Queensland intensive care units. Weekly teaching sessions held via Microsoft Teams.

Senior Registrar education program

- Senior Registrar Education Program – The program will be based on CICM Training Resource T30 (including vivas, radiology, communication, echo and clinical coaching sessions). Program provides a broad educational program for senior registrars working in intensive care together with fellowship exam focused teaching for CICM advanced trainees working in Queensland. Weekly teaching sessions held via Microsoft Teams.
- State-wide Paediatric Critical Care Ground Rounds – monthly sessions hosted between Queensland's four paediatric critical care units via Microsoft Teams.

Trainee research project support

- The Queensland Critical Care Research Network (QCCRN) holds an Annual Scientific Meeting with a research program focus.
- The CICM QRC Trainee Research Day is for CICM trainees undertaking the research requirement of training. The workshop provides guidance on how to design and complete a project, outlines the tools required, and discussion and peer review for individual proposed projects.
- The CICM QRC hosts an annual Trainee Presentation day for trainees to present projects. If you have enquiries about your formal research project, please contact your unit SOT.

Intensive care courses

- Mater CICM Primary Short Course – hosted by the Mater Adults Hospital department of intensive care medicine, South Brisbane. This course is designed to prepare candidates for the CICM primary exam with topic areas drawn from the CICM primary syllabus. Course faculty includes primary examiners and published experts.
