Hospital facilities
The Cairns and Hinterland Hospital and Health Service (CHHHS) is responsible for the delivery of Health Services in a geographical area of 141,000 square kilometres ranging from Cairns to Tully in the south, Cow Bay in the north and Croydon in the west. The HHS outer western region encompasses extremely remote communities.

The CHHHS supports a population of 283,197 which is forecast to grow by 9% by 2026, with the highest level of growth occurring within the in the 65 and over age group. Tourism is a key industry and contributes to a relatively high transient population. It is estimated that 9% of the population are Indigenous Australian, compared to 3.5% for Queensland as a whole.

The CHHHS delivers health services across the continuum of care and also provides services to the Torres and Cape Hospital and Health Service. Some higher level acute services are provided outside the CHHHS area in Townsville or Brisbane.

Clinical service profile
Cairns Hospital provides community and specialist hospital services for Cairns and its immediate surroundings and is the major referral centre for Tropical North Queensland. Services include all major health specialties (medicine, surgery, women’s health, paediatrics and mental health) and more than 30 sub-specialties. The hospital also is a major provider of outreach specialist services to remote and rural areas, including obstetrics and gynaecology, anaesthesiology, orthopaedics, general medicine, renal medicine, diabetes and thoracic medicine.

Cairns Hospital is Australia’s first large-scale regional Digital Hospital, leading the way in health care information and technology. We’re connecting patients, clinicians and health services through fully integrated digital healthcare.

ICU Registrar Positions

Cairns ICU is a 16-bed, level III, general ICU which admits a diverse case-mix of both adult and paediatric patients. The majority of the 1200+ annual admissions are emergencies (>80%), with a high level of acuity and complexity.

The unit case-mix is diverse, being substantially compromised of tropical infectious diseases, trauma and complex medical and surgical conditions. With a catchment area including Cape York and the Torres Strait, a significant proportion of the patients are Indigenous and are often from remote communities.

Cairns ICU has CICM accreditation as a C12 unit (for pre-2014 trainees) and has unlimited general and paediatric (P12) accreditation for post-2014 trainees. The unit also provides rotations to Senior House Officers (SHO) as part of the Cairns Hospital Critical Care SHO year and is accredited for ANZCA and ACEM trainees.

There is a dedicated registrar education program, with protected ICU registrar teaching time, as well as weekly primary examination tutorial. Advanced trainees have access to Fellowship Exam preparation, including regular hot cases conducted by FCICM specialists in the unit. An Echo training program is being established by College accredited assessors.
There is a close relationship with the infectious diseases unit, with regular microbiological ward rounds and there is a weekly radiology teaching program. Weekly SIM training with mini-sims for critical care occurs in the dedicated ICU simulation and training room.

The unit is dynamic and evolving, with an expanding research program. Great opportunities exist for registrars to undertake intensive care training, while managing unique cases in an interesting, supportive tropical intensive care environment.

Community and lifestyle

The People / Socio Demographics
Cairns is home to approximately 165,000 people from diverse cultural and ethnic backgrounds. This adds to the cosmopolitan feel of the place. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, as well as South Pacific Islanders maintain strong links to the area. Most denominations are catered for. All major service organisations are active in Cairns. There is also a Royal Flying Doctor base located here.
Real Estate and Accommodation
The majority of the area’s housing is privately owned. The area is well served for rental accommodation. The council is encouraging unit, villa and apartment-style development, especially in the Central Business District.

Places of Interest
For some it’s the reef, islands and beach lifestyle of the northern beaches that are the greatest attractions – Fitzroy and Green Islands, Palm Cove, Port Douglas, and many opportunities for scuba diving on the GBR. For others it’s the stunning rainforests and natural attractions – the Daintree and Cape Tribulation and further north. Then there is also the amazing Tablelands district with its many attractions (waterfalls, markets, food, art, sporting) etc

The city of Cairns itself is quite diverse and multicultural. Cairns also attracts those interested in a sporting lifestyle – mountain biking, triathlons, ironman events even quirky events such as the annual 3day Wheelbarrow Race.

Other attractions in the area include the historic Botanical Gardens, The Esplanade, the scenic Kuranda area, fishing on the reef, white water rafting and the Barron Gorge. The many parks and gardens as well as the incomparable reef make Cairns a great place to explore.
