Subject: URGENT - DPO - protests health advice

Hi Jeannette,

Could we please seek urgent clearance on the below health advice for protests?
 DPO are preparing a media release regarding the Black Lives Matter protests scheduled for this weekend, and would like to get it out ASAP today.

Lines:

As part of Stage 2 of the Roadmap to Easing Queensland's Restrictions, groups of up to 20 people are now permitted to gather publicly regardless, and they can be from the same or different households.

Lawful protests are also permitted provided individuals continue to practice social distancing, ensure there is no more than 1 person per 4 square meters and remain in groups of up to 20.
 Keep alcohol rub on you to use regularly if you can't wash your hands properly. And most importantly, stay home if you are sick.

We support the rights of Queenslanders to engage in protests and important public discourse, while balancing the need to keep the community safe and well.

Background:

The Queensland Police Service is responsible for the issuing of permits for lawful protests, and compliance around these matters.

I've just come back from Sydney but I'm sure you won't mind if I spread my love to all the protesters as you're the fool that approved the protests so tough luck if you get a spike I say, only got yourself to blame. I've got all the symptoms so it's time to teach these protester dogs a lesson by spreading China virus.

Dear Dr Young,

Jeannette,

ISOLATION REQUIREMENTS – TEACHERS AND STUDENTS WHO ATTENDED MASS PROTESTS IN BRISBANE

I have been contacted by [REDACTED] of a school in my electorate of Southern Downs concerning the isolation requirements for teachers and students who attended the recent mass protest activities in Brisbane.

I am advised that staff and students from the school in question attended the “Black Lives Matter” protest in Brisbane, and that members of the school community have expressed concern over their continued attendance at school without knowledge of whether or not they may have contracted coronavirus at the protest and be infectious to others.

I share the concerns which have been brought to me by [REDACTED]. They mirror the concerns of many constituents who have expressed anger and dismay to me over the protesters’ violation of your COVID-19 public health directions, and the potential impact that this may have on the health and economic circumstances of Queenslanders.

I advised [REDACTED] that I would write to you and ask what measures are necessary to ensure that staff, students and parents and our community are not exposed to increased risk of Coronavirus transmission in these circumstances. I would be grateful if you would provide me with your advice in this matter for the benefit of my constituents.

Thank you for your continuing care for the public good.

Yours sincerely

James Lister MP
