Indemnity for Queensland Health Medical Practitioners

Policy Number: I2 (QH-POL-153)
Publication date: 4 August 2014

Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to outline the indemnity arrangements for medical practitioners engaged by Queensland Health when undertaking clinical management of patients or providing associated clinical services (including clinical governance, education and research), including under the direction of a Hospital and Health Service.

Application: This policy applies to medical practitioners engaged by Queensland Health:

- to undertake clinical management of public patients (as defined in the definitions table), for example:
  - a medical practitioner is engaged by Queensland Health if they are an employee (including senior medical officer (SMO) and visiting medical officer (VMO) employees engaged under senior health service employee contracts of employment, medical officers in public health and government medical officers (GMOs) directly engaged by Queensland Health)
  - a medical practitioner directly assisting Queensland Health in the clinical management of public patients (such as a doctor assisting in an emergency retrieval of a public patient)
  - a medical practitioner operating under a joint appointment arrangement between Queensland Health and a university
  - a medical practitioner required to travel interstate (e.g. northern NSW), as directed by Queensland Health, to provide medical services to interstate patients, such as retrieval services.

- to undertake associated clinical services (as defined in the definitions table), for example:
  - a medical practitioner appointed as an investigator under part 9 of the Hospital and Health Boards Act 2011 to investigate the clinical management of patients against stated terms of reference
  - a medical practitioner engaged by Queensland Health who provides clinical advice to general practitioners or to interstate hospitals/staff regarding the treatment of interstate patients.

- undertaking clinical management of private patients (as defined in the definitions table) in the circumstances set out in Schedule Two, for example:
  - a SMO treating their private patient in a Queensland Health facility under a grant of private practice provided via a senior health service employee contract of employment.
This policy also applies to a medical practitioner who has incurred legal liability or costs in the course of their employment with Queensland Health, whether or not the practitioner has continued in employment.

Collaborative Work Agreements with the Mater Public Hospital
This policy continues to apply to medical practitioners engaged by Queensland Health participating in secondments under approved collaborative work agreements with Mater Misericordiae Health Services Brisbane Limited (the Mater).

Independent VMO contractors and locum doctors engaged under standard contracts
This policy applies to independent VMO contractors and locum doctors engaged under the Standard Visiting Medical Officer contract or the Standard Locum contract for Medical Officers, as stated in the standard contract.

Application in Hospital and Health Services
This policy applies to medical practitioners engaged under the Hospital and Health Boards Act 2011 performing duties and functions under the direction of a Hospital and Health Service, and medical practitioner employees of a prescribed or a non-prescribed Hospital and Health Service.

Reference is to be made to the Summary - Application of indemnity arrangements and decision makers for Queensland Health Medical Practitioners (Schedule Three).

This policy does not apply to:

- contracted medical practitioners directly engaged under any other type of contract for their services. These practitioners are to refer to their contract for their indemnity cover. If there is no indemnity clause, or the clause is unclear, the practitioner may apply for indemnity under section 7 of this policy. (Note: this exclusion does not include employee medical practitioners engaged via a senior health service employee contract of employment.)

- independent contractors or consultants providing services to Queensland Health (it is possible to specifically provide for indemnity in the contract for services), for example:
  - a contract for the provision of emergency department services at a public hospital between a private company and Queensland Health.

- medical practitioners unregistered without a valid reason, to the satisfaction of the decision maker, as at the time of the performance of the services for which indemnity is sought.

- medical practitioners not credentialed without a valid reason, to the satisfaction of the decision maker, at the time of the performance of the services for which indemnity is sought.

- medical practitioners engaged by public sector agencies other than Queensland Health and not providing services for Queensland Health, for example:
• medical practitioners providing GMO services to the Queensland Police Service or Department of Justice and Attorney-General.

• non-medical practitioner employees and other persons performing duties or functions for Queensland Health. Those persons are to refer to the Queensland Government Indemnity Guideline, as amended from time to time, for their indemnity arrangements.

• medical practitioners engaged by the Mater. Those practitioners are to refer to that organisation's policy on indemnity and any relevant agreements or contracts in place between Queensland Health and the operators of the Mater.

A decision that this policy does not apply to a medical practitioner for one of the reasons set out above is to be made by the decision maker.

Where a HHS employs medical practitioners directly, e.g. as a prescribed employer or under a senior health service employee contract, reference is to be made to the relevant HHS HR delegations manual.

SCHEDULE ONE
Claim Process

SCHEDULE TWO
Extent of indemnity for private patients

SCHEDULE THREE
Summary – Application of indemnity arrangements and decision makers for Queensland Health Medical Practitioners
1 Claims

1.1 Claims – Scope of indemnity

1.1.1 Medical practitioner engaged by Queensland Health

Indemnity is to be provided for a claim against a medical practitioner when the medical practitioner was engaged to perform duties for and under the direction of Queensland Health and the practitioner:

- undertook the clinical management of a patient or participated in research involving patient contact or responsibilities, which is the subject of the claim, in accordance with the medical practitioner’s scope of practice as granted by the relevant medical superintendent or chief executive on the recommendation of the relevant credentialing and scope of clinical practice committee, where such credentialing and privileging is required;
- participated in ongoing clinical audits and provided early notification of possible claims relating to the clinical management of patients or to participation in such research;
- acted in good faith and without gross negligence.

1.1.2 Medical practitioner engaged by Queensland Health to perform associated clinical services (excluding patient research)

Indemnity is to be provided for a claim against a medical practitioner when the medical practitioner was engaged to perform associated clinical services for Queensland Health, except for participation in research involving patient contact or responsibilities (refer section 1.1.1). The medical practitioner is to have endeavoured to provide such services in good faith and without gross negligence to the satisfaction of the decision maker.

1.1.3 All medical practitioners

A medical practitioner is not to be excluded from the scope of this policy because they lack permission from a relevant delegate, if the indemnity decision maker is satisfied as to the reason for a medical practitioner not holding such permission.

Examples

- a resident medical officer (RMO), a medical superintendent with private practice (MSPP) and a medical officer with private practice (MOPP) are covered by this policy if rostered on call or recalled specifically by Queensland Health to assist with an emergency clinical situation for which the RMO, MSPP or MOPP is not credentialed.
- a junior doctor who is not required to be credentialed and privileged is still covered by this policy.

1.2 Claims – method of indemnity

Section 26C of the Public Service Act 2008 (the Act) provides that a state employee does not incur civil liability for engaging, or as a result of engaging, in conduct in an official capacity, instead the liability attaches to the State. The Act provisions are extended to medical practitioner employees of Queensland Health.
Liability for civil claims is to be accepted for employee medical practitioners when notification of the matter is provided to Queensland Health and an undertaking is made by the medical practitioner that they acted in good faith and without gross negligence. In addition, medical practitioner employees must continue to meet the other requirements for a grant of indemnity as outlined in this policy, e.g. hold current registration at the time of the incident, the subject of the claim. The decision maker will review the medical practitioner’s grant for an indemnity to ensure the policy requirements are met in order to accept a civil liability on behalf of the State.

Where this policy indicates application to a non-employee medical practitioner, the medical practitioner is to apply to the decision maker for a grant of indemnity and must meet all requirements of this policy for an indemnity to be provided.

Queensland Health is to indemnify medical practitioners who are covered by this policy for claims related to their duties and functions. The indemnity consists of:

- any damages or costs awarded or negotiated in respect of a claim
- the provision of legal representation or the reasonable costs of defending or settling the claim.

Queensland Health is not to seek any contribution from the medical practitioner in respect of the above amounts (subject to section 1.3).

Queensland Health is to appoint and instruct solicitors to conduct the defence of the claim on behalf of the State (for employees) or the medical practitioner and the medical practitioner is to cooperate fully with Queensland Health’s solicitors in the conduct of the case.

Queensland Health may be required to respond to a matter as a defendant in addition to providing indemnity cover to a medical practitioner involved in the matter under the terms of this policy. In these instances Queensland Health is to take all reasonable steps to manage any potential conflict of interest and is to be mindful of the interests of the medical practitioner through all stages to the conclusion of a claim.

1.3 Claims – exclusions from indemnity

A medical practitioner is not to be entitled to indemnity for a claim when:

- the medical practitioner has been convicted of a criminal offence arising from the conduct that is the subject of the claim (except where the conviction has arisen out of an incident subject to section 3)
- the medical practitioner’s conduct that is the subject of the claim has been proven, to the satisfaction of the decision maker, to have been other than in good faith and with gross negligence
- the medical practitioner is found to have engaged in misconduct of a kind that would warrant dismissal of employment.

Indemnity may be withdrawn when either of the circumstances outlined above applies or one of the following circumstances arises:

- the medical practitioner does not cooperate fully with the solicitors appointed by Queensland Health (the State) to conduct the defence of the matter
- details provided by the medical practitioner as part of the claim for indemnity are found to be incorrect or misleading such that the medical practitioner would not be covered by this policy

Page 6 of 18
• the medical officer was unregistered without a valid reason as at the time of the incident subject of the claim occurred
• the medical officer was not credentialed without a valid reason at the time of the incident subject of the claim occurred.

A decision that indemnity is unavailable or is to be withdrawn under this section is to be made by the decision maker. For medical practitioners engaged by the Department of Health and non-prescribed Hospital and Health Services (HHSs) (excluding SMOs and VMOs employed under a senior health service employee contract with the HHS), a decision to withdraw or deny indemnity is to be referred to the Deputy Director-General, System Support Services. When indemnity is to be denied or withdrawn subject to the conduct of the medical practitioner being deemed other than in good faith and with gross negligence, advice from the Crown Solicitor should be sought before such assistance is withdrawn.

Review of decision to exclude from indemnity
When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the decision of the decision maker that indemnity is unavailable or is withdrawn, the medical practitioner may request a review of the decision be undertaken (refer Schedule One section 7).

2 Legal representation/assistance

2.1 Scope of representation/assistance in respect of investigative agencies (excluding a Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry), the Office of the Health Ombudsman and the Medical Board of Australia

Queensland Health is to appoint and instruct solicitors to provide legal representation for, and legal assistance to, a medical practitioner in relation to an appearance before, or the giving of evidence or information to, an investigative agency, the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia in connection with the clinical management of public patients or the provision of associated clinical services (or the clinical management of private patients in the limited circumstances set out in Schedule Two).

Where an inquest or Coronial inquiry is to be held a medical officer only need seek separate representation if there is a conflict or potential conflict between the medical officer’s interests and that of Queensland Health or the State. Queensland Health is to appoint solicitors to provide separate legal representation after obtaining legal advice regarding any actual or potential conflict of interest.

In relation to an investigation or an inquiry by or on behalf of Medicare Australia reference is to be made to section 2.2.

In relation to an investigation or an inquiry by a police service, reference is to be made to section 5.

Queensland Health is not to provide representation for, and legal assistance to, a medical practitioner for the purpose of initiating or continuing separate legal proceedings, by or on behalf of the medical practitioner, in relation to an appearance before, or the giving of evidence or information to an investigative agency, the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia, unless approval in writing has first been obtained from the Attorney-General.

Queensland Health may be required to respond to an investigative agency, the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia as a party in addition to providing representation to a medical practitioner responding to the investigative agency, the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia under the terms of this policy. In these instances, Queensland Health is to take all reasonable steps to manage any potential conflict of interest and is to be mindful of the interests of the medical practitioner through all stages to the conclusion of the matter.

2.2 Scope of representation/assistance in respect of a Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry

It is the responsibility of Queensland Health to ensure that the operation of all Medicare Benefits Schedule (MBS)-billed clinics complies with the requirements of the MBS, the Health Insurance Act 1973, the National Healthcare Agreement, and other relevant Commonwealth and/or Queensland Government requirements.

A medical practitioner engaging in granted private practice is to comply with Queensland Health policy and guidelines related to private practice billing for admitted and non-admitted patients.

Queensland Health is to appoint and instruct solicitors to provide legal representation for, and legal assistance to, a medical practitioner in relation to an appearance before, or the giving of evidence or information to, a Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry, when:

- at the time of the incident/s subject of the investigation or inquiry, the medical practitioner had been granted permission to participate in granted private practice through a current senior health service employee contract of employment, signed with effect on or after 4 August 2014
- the investigation or inquiry is in respect of an alleged breach of the Health Insurance Act 1973 in relation to patient election and informed financial consent administrative processes, including use of the medical practitioner’s provider number for those related private patient billings
- the patient is a Medicare eligible patient and had a valid referral or request, i.e. in accordance with Medicare Australia requirements and the National Health Reform Agreement 2011.

Queensland Health is not to provide representation for, and legal assistance to, a medical practitioner for the purpose of initiating or continuing separate legal proceedings, by or on behalf of the medical practitioner in relation to an appearance before, or the giving of evidence or information to, any Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry, unless approval in writing has first been obtained from the Attorney-General.

Queensland Health may be required to respond to a Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry as a party in addition to providing representation to a medical practitioner responding to a Medicare Australia investigation under the terms of this policy. In these instances, Queensland Health is to take all reasonable steps to manage any potential conflict of interest and is to be mindful of the interests of the medical practitioner through all stages to the conclusion of the matter.

2.3 Representation/assistance – exclusions

A medical practitioner is not entitled to legal representation and assistance under sections 2.1 or 2.2, or legal representation and assistance may be withdrawn, when:

- the medical practitioner has been convicted of a criminal offence arising from the conduct that is the subject of the appearance (except where the conviction has arisen out of circumstances described in sections 2.2 or 3) or the medical practitioner’s conduct that is the subject of the appearance has been proven, to the satisfaction of the decision maker to have been other than in good faith and with gross negligence or the medical practitioner is referred to a Professional Conduct Review Panel, a Panel constituted under the Health Practitioners Regulation National Law Act 2009 or the Queensland Civil and Administrative Tribunal (QCAT) by the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia (this exclusion is not to apply if a medical practitioner is referred by the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia to a Professional Conduct Review Panel, a Panel constituted under the Health Practitioners Regulation National Law Act 2009 or the QCAT on the basis of their professional practice in delivering a clinical service or an associated clinical service) or the medical practitioner does not cooperate fully with the solicitors appointed by Queensland Health to represent the medical practitioner or details provided by the medical practitioner to support representation are found to be incorrect or misleading such that the medical practitioner is not to be covered by this policy.

A decision that legal representation or assistance is unavailable or is to be withdrawn under this section is to be made by the decision maker. For medical practitioners engaged by the Department of Health and non-prescribed Hospital and Health Services (HHSs) (excluding SMOs and VMOs employed under a senior health service employee contract with the HHS), a decision to withdraw or deny indemnity is to be referred to the Deputy Director-General, System Support Services. When legal representation or assistance is to be denied or withdrawn subject to the conduct of the medical practitioner being deemed other than in good faith and with gross negligence, advice from the Crown Solicitor should be sought before such assistance is withdrawn.

Review of a decision to exclude from representation/assistance
When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the decision that representation or assistance under section 2.1 or 2.2 is unavailable or is withdrawn, the practitioner may request a review of the decision (refer Schedule One, section 7).

3 Fatigue

When a medical practitioner engaged by Queensland Health is required to continue working due to operational requirements, the medical practitioner is or may become fatigued. Legal representation, assistance, and indemnity are to be provided by Queensland Health at the request of the practitioner, when the incident subject of the claim would not have, on the balance of probabilities, occurred but for the fatigue.

The delegated decision maker may obtain written advice from an agreed independent fatigue management expert to assess whether fatigue existed.

4 Recovery of costs

When under section 1.3 indemnity has been withdrawn from a medical practitioner where it is proven that the medical practitioner did not act in good faith and without gross negligence, or if the medical practitioner is convicted of a criminal offence with regard to the conduct which is the subject of the claim, Queensland Health may in its discretion recover from the medical practitioner any amounts which were paid by Queensland Health under section 1.2 prior to the indemnity being withdrawn.
If one of the exclusions under section 2.3 applies, Queensland Health may in its discretion recover any amounts from the medical practitioner which were paid by Queensland Health for representation/assistance under sections 2.1 or 2.2 prior to the exclusion taking effect.

5 Police investigations and criminal offences (specific offences)

When a medical practitioner is investigated by a police service or other entity with responsibility for investigating offences, or is charged with a criminal offence, Queensland Health is to appoint and instruct solicitors to provide legal representation for, and legal assistance to, the medical practitioner to respond to the investigation or to defend the criminal charge, provided that:

- the investigation or charge arose out of the clinical management provided by the medical practitioner in accordance with the medical practitioner’s scope of practice as granted by the relevant medical superintendent, chief executive or CHO on the recommendation of the relevant Credentialing and Scope of Clinical Practice Committee, where such credentialing and privileging is required
- or
- the investigation or charge arose out of the associated clinical services (refer definitions) provided by the medical practitioner, and the practitioner has endeavoured to provide such services in good faith and without gross negligence to the satisfaction of the decision maker.

A medical practitioner is not entitled to representation or assistance under this section, or it may be withdrawn, if:

- the medical practitioner’s conduct that is the subject of the charge has been proven, to the satisfaction of Queensland Health, to have been other than in good faith and with gross negligence
- or
- the medical practitioner does not cooperate fully with the solicitors appointed by Queensland Health to represent the medical practitioner
- or
- details provided by the medical practitioner to support representation are found to be incorrect or misleading such that the medical practitioner is not to be covered by this policy
- or
- new information emerges which, if known to the decision maker at the time of granting the application for legal assistance would have led to the decision maker deciding not to grant legal assistance.

A decision that legal representation or assistance is unavailable or is to be withdrawn under this section is to be made by the decision maker (refer Schedule Three). For medical practitioners engaged by the Department of Health and non-prescribed Hospital and Health Services (HHSs) (excluding SMOs and VMOs employed under a senior health service employee contract with the HHS), a decision to withdraw or deny indemnity is to be referred to the Deputy Director-General, System Support Services. When legal representation or assistance is to be denied or withdrawn subject to the conduct of the medical practitioner being deemed other than in good faith and with gross negligence, advice from the Crown Solicitor should be sought before such assistance is withdrawn.

If a medical practitioner is convicted of a criminal offence, or one of the other exclusions under this section applies, Queensland Health may in its discretion recover from the medical practitioner any amounts which were paid by Queensland Health under this section prior to conviction or the exclusion taking effect.
This section does not extend to the provision of legal representation for, or legal assistance to, a medical practitioner for the purposes of appealing their conviction of a criminal offence.

Review of decision regarding a police investigation or criminal offence

When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the decision that representation or assistance is unavailable or is withdrawn by the decision maker, the practitioner may request a review of the decision (refer to Schedule One, section 7).

5.1 Reimbursement of criminal defence costs

Queensland Health is to provide reimbursement to the medical practitioner of the reasonable costs incurred by the medical practitioner in seeking their own legal representation to defend the criminal charge if:

- the charge arose out of the clinical management provided by the medical practitioner in accordance with permission granted by the medical superintendent, chief executive or CHO on the recommendation of the relevant Credentialing and Scope of Clinical Practice Committee, where such credentialing and privileging is required
- or
- the charge arose out of the associated clinical services provided by the medical practitioner, and the practitioner has endeavoured to provide such services in good faith and without gross negligence to the satisfaction of Queensland Health
- or
- the medical practitioner is not committed for trial in respect of the charge after committal proceedings, or is acquitted of the charge at trial, or the charge is withdrawn or discontinued for any reason
- or
- the medical practitioner's conduct the subject of the charge has not been proven, to the satisfaction of Queensland Health, to constitute having not been in good faith and without gross negligence.

An application for reimbursement of criminal defence costs is to be made to the decision maker.

Review of decision regarding reimbursement of criminal defence costs

When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the decision of the decision maker to not reimburse criminal defence costs or with the amount to be reimbursed, the practitioner may request a review of the decision be undertaken (refer to Schedule One, section 7).

6 Medical practitioner responsibilities

It is the responsibility of the medical practitioner to keep the medical superintendent, chief executive or CHO informed of any change in circumstances which may affect indemnity cover under section 1.1, or representation/assistance under sections 2.1, 2.2 or 5.

7 Other circumstances

It is not possible to provide for all circumstances when indemnity may be appropriate and there may be other circumstances when it is appropriate to provide an indemnity or an indication of whether an indemnity is to be extended.

An application for other circumstances indemnity is to be determined on a case-by-case basis by the decision maker. The decision maker is to seek legal advice. Some of the factors to be considered to determine the application are:
• whether the practitioner was acting, or is to act, under the direction of Queensland Health
• whether the activities undertaken by the practitioner were, or are to be, of benefit to Queensland Health
• the nature of the patient or service delivery
• the nature and extent of available underwriting or insurance.

Examples of when indemnity may be provided
• If a medical practitioner proposes to undertake an interstate clinical role or educational opportunity a determination of the indicative indemnity position can be made.
• The performance of research by a senior medical officer granted private practice arrangements.
• Advice provided by a Queensland Health medical practitioner to an external practitioner located overseas.
• Practitioners directly engaged under a contract for their services when the contract is unclear or silent on indemnity.
• A practitioner seeking representation before a body that has been excluded from the definition of investigative agency under this policy.
• A practitioner who attends an interstate or overseas public or private hospital, or Queensland private hospital, for the purposes of procuring organs for transportation.
• A practitioner who attends a Queensland or interstate private hospital for the purposes of retrieving a patient.
• A practitioner who is required to travel overseas e.g. Papua New Guinea, to provide medical services to Australian or overseas patients, such as retrieval services.
• A practitioner who is a member of an ethics committee based in a public health facility assessing research for a private hospital or general practitioner, as requested by the authorised delegate. Reference is also to be made to the Research Management Policy or any replacement document dealing with substantially the same subject matter.
• A member of a Queensland Health credentialing appeals committee

Note the above list is provided as a guide only and is not exhaustive. Indemnity applications for other circumstances will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Review of other circumstances indemnity decision
When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the decision of the decision maker to not provide indemnity in other circumstances, the practitioner may request a review of the decision be undertaken (refer Schedule One, section 7).

8 Defamation
This policy applies to claims for defamation brought against medical practitioners covered by this policy. In accordance with whole-of-government policy, Queensland Health does not provide assistance to medical practitioners commencing defamation action against any other person or organisation.

Indemnity for Queensland Health Medical Practitioners – Schedule One - Claim Process

The following information is provided as the minimum mandatory standard practice, procedure or process to enable satisfactory compliance with this Queensland Health HR policy.

Local guidelines/procedures may be developed to facilitate implementation of this policy. Any local guidelines/procedures must be consistent with this policy and Schedules and ensure employee entitlements continue to be met.

1 Processing indemnity claims

Application
When a medical practitioner undertaking clinical or associated clinical services first becomes personally aware of a claim in which they are named as a respondent/defendant, the practitioner is to submit a notification and undertaking for a grant of indemnity to the decision maker (refer Schedule Three) within two working days after receipt of the claim.

Information provided in the notification is to accurately reflect the circumstances of the claim. Incorrect or misleading information which affects the application of this policy may lead to subsequent withdrawal of indemnity.

If the medical practitioner is not formally named as a respondent/defendant, they do not need to claim indemnity through this process. Medical practitioners are to cooperate fully with Queensland Health’s solicitors in the defence of the claim as requested.

Responsibilities of decision maker
Within two working days of the receipt of a notification and undertaking for a grant of indemnity for a civil matter that appears accurate and complete in all particulars, the decision maker is to complete the indemnity confirmation to:

- confirm in writing to the medical practitioner that the practitioner is to be indemnified; or
- advise the medical practitioner in writing that the matter of indemnity has been referred to the Deputy Director-General, System Support Services (DDG SSS) for further consideration (medical practitioners engaged by Department of Health or a non-prescribed Hospital and Health Service (HHS) only).

When indemnity is referred for further consideration, the chief executive or chief health officer (CHO) is to ensure Queensland Health’s solicitors are instructed to take all appropriate legal action in respect of the claim pending the decision.

Upon receipt of an indemnity decision referral from a chief executive or the CHO, the DDG SSS is to determine whether a medical practitioner is entitled to indemnity under this policy. The DDG SSS is to provide written notification to the medical practitioner of the decision within seven working days.

2 Processing representation before investigative agencies (excluding Medicare Australia investigations) and the Medical Board of Australia

2.1 Application
When a medical practitioner undertaking clinical or associated clinical services is required to appear before or give evidence to, an investigative agency (excluding Medicare Australia), the Office of the Health Ombudsman or the Medical Board of Australia, the practitioner is to submit a request for legal representation/assistance to the decision maker, within two working days after personal receipt of the notice to appear.

Indemnity for Queensland Health Medical Practitioners
2.2 Responsibilities of decision maker
Within two working days of receipt of a request that appears accurate and complete in all particulars, the decision maker is to complete the representation confirmation to:

- confirm in writing to the medical practitioner that legal representation and assistance by Queensland Health’s solicitors is to be provided to the practitioner; or

- advise the medical practitioner in writing that the matter of legal representation/assistance has been referred to the DDG SSS for further consideration (medical practitioners engaged by Department of Health or a non-prescribed Hospital and Health Service (HHS) only).

When representation is referred for further consideration, the chief executive or the CHO is to ensure Queensland Health’s solicitors are instructed to take all appropriate legal action in respect of the notice to appear pending the decision.

Upon receipt of a representation decision referral from a chief executive or the CHO, the DDG SSS is to determine whether a medical practitioner is entitled to legal representation or assistance under this policy. The DDG SSS is to provide written notification to the medical practitioner of the decision within seven working days.

3 Processing representation for a Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry

3.1 Application
When a medical practitioner is required to appear before or give evidence to a Medicare Australia investigation or inquiry in relation to section 2.2 of this policy, the medical practitioner is to submit a request for legal representation/assistance to the decision maker within two working days after personal receipt of the notice to appear.

3.2 Responsibilities of decision maker
Within two working days of receipt of a request that appears accurate and complete in all particulars, the decision maker is to complete the representation confirmation to:

- confirm in writing to the medical practitioner that legal representation and assistance by Queensland Health’s solicitors is to be provided to the practitioner; or

- advise the medical practitioner in writing that the matter of legal representation/assistance has been referred to the DDG SSS for further consideration (medical practitioners engaged by Department of Health or a non-prescribed Hospital and Health Service (HHS) only).

When representation is referred for further consideration, the chief executive or the CHO is to ensure Queensland Health’s solicitors are instructed to take all appropriate legal action in respect of the notice to appear pending the decision.

Upon receipt of a representation decision referral from a chief executive or the CHO, the DDG SSS is to determine whether a medical practitioner is entitled to legal representation or assistance under this policy. The DDG SSS is to provide written notification to the medical practitioner of the decision within seven working days.

4 Processing reimbursements of criminal defence costs

4.1 Application
When a medical practitioner wishes to seek reimbursement of the reasonable costs incurred in defending a criminal charge, the practitioner is to submit an application for reimbursement of criminal defence costs to the decision maker. When the medical practitioner is engaged by a prescribed or a non-prescribed HHS, the Health Service Chief Executive is the decision maker. When the medical practitioner is engaged by the Department of Health, the DDG SSS is the decision maker.

4.2 Responsibilities of decision maker
The decision maker is to provide confirmation in writing to the medical practitioner of the decision for reimbursement of all costs, a portion of costs, or nil reimbursement of defence costs.

5 Processing police investigations and criminal offences

5.1 Application
When a medical practitioner is investigated by a police service or other entity with responsibility for investigating offences, or is charged with a criminal offence, the practitioner is to submit a notification and undertaking for a grant of indemnity to the decision maker within two working days of being asked to respond to an investigation or being charged. For medical practitioners engaged by the Department of Health or a non-prescribed HHS, notifications are to be forwarded to the Chief Legal Counsel, Legal Branch, SSS Division. Upon receipt of the notification, Chief Legal Counsel is to inform the DDG SSS.

5.2 Responsibilities of decision maker
The decision maker is to notify the medical practitioner in writing of the decision within seven working days.

6 Processing other circumstances claims

6.1 Application
A medical practitioner to whom this policy applies (refer application section) may seek indemnity relating to other circumstances on a case-by-case basis. A medical practitioner, including a VMO, under any type of contract for service may seek indemnity under the other circumstances process on a case-by-case basis, when the contract for service does not include an indemnity clause or the clause is unclear.

The medical practitioner is to submit a notification and undertaking for a grant of indemnity to the decision maker within two working days of receiving a claim, a notice to appear or a charge being laid. For medical practitioners engaged by the Department of Health or a non-prescribed HHS (unless a contractor medical practitioner engaged directly by the HHS), notifications are to be forwarded to the Chief Legal Counsel, Legal Branch, SSS Division. Upon receipt of the notification, Chief Legal Counsel is to inform the DDG SSS.

6.2 Responsibilities of decision maker
The decision maker is to notify the medical practitioner in writing of the decision within seven working days.

7 Review of decisions

7.1 Medical practitioner engaged by the Department of Health or a non-prescribed HHS
When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the determination made by the DDG SSS, the practitioner may request a review by the Director-General (DG).

In reviewing a determination, the DG is to consult with:

- the head of the medical staff association of the relevant Department of Health or HHS facility at which the medical practitioner is engaged (or when there is no medical staff association, a peer nominated by the medical practitioner and agreed to by the DG)
- the Private Practice Governance Board for decisions relating to a Medicare Australia investigation an independent cost assessor chosen by the medical practitioner from a panel of assessors authorised by Queensland Health, when agreement is unable to be reached as to the amount of reimbursement of reasonable criminal defence costs. Referral to a cost assessor is to be made at the expense of Queensland Health.

In reviewing a determination regarding eligibility for indemnity or legal representation/assistance for a medical practitioner arising out of an incident classified as associated clinical services, the DG is to consult with a supervisor nominated by the medical practitioner.

7.2 Medical practitioner engaged by a prescribed HHS

When the medical practitioner is dissatisfied with the determination made by the decision maker the practitioner may request a review of the decision from the decision maker or the Hospital and Health Board, in accordance with local procedures.
