

Don't cross-contaminate

To avoid cross-contamination:

- Ensure that raw foods, such as poultry, eggs and meat, don't come into contact with cooked and ready to eat foods

- Ensure that raw food is not stored above cooked or ready to eat foods in the fridge

- Ensure that hands and cooking utensils are thoroughly cleaned before contact with food

- Wash and sanitise chopping boards before each use

