Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander patients are encouraged to identify at registration on HBCIS.

Patients are then visited by the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander hospital liaison officer and informed of the services and cultural support available as inpatient.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander hospital liaison officers check daily inpatient list to identify Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander inpatients.

If patients are needing other support or services this may be discussed at journey board meetings or on ward with medical staff.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander hospital liaison officers attend care plan meetings to advocate for the patient.

Document in chart as per discussion or outcome from journey board meeting patient informed of outcome.

Discuss patient discharge summary with medical staff for follow up in community.

Patients choose appropriate services to be referred to in the community.