

General medicine advanced training preference guide

All general medicine advanced training positions are coordinated through the Queensland General Medicine Advanced Training Network. Refer to the network webpage for more information.

RMO application: Step 10 Preferences

Candidates should complete their first preference as shown below. Only one preference is required to indicate that you wish to be considered for general medicine advanced training.

What is your first preferred facility? *

College/Pathway/Network (Determined)

What is your first preferred position? *

Registrar

What is your first preferred Specialty? *

Medicine

What is your first preferred Sub-Specialty? *

General Medicine (AT)

Candidates applying for a general medicine advanced training position should use lower preferences to indicate which positions they may be interested in if they are not selected to their first preference. You can search for alternative vacancies by using the Position search tool on the RMO website.

Dual trainees

The network will consider dual training applicants as follows:

1. With general medicine as their first preference
2. With general medicine as their second preference if applying for dual training with Geriatric Medicine, Palliative Care, Clinical Pharmacology, or Obstetric Medicine

For more information on preferencing for dual trainees refer to the How to apply document on the network webpage.
