7 POLICY

7.1 Non-compulsory administrative uniforms

The employer is to use its purchasing power to make available access to cost effective uniforms for administrative staff. These arrangements will include the ability for staff to make payments through payroll deductions or another agreed method.

Queensland Health has a standing offer arrangement (SOA) for a non-compulsory uniform for administrative staff. Uniform Management Services (Pty) Ltd maintains a Queensland Health catalogue on its website.

7.2 Protective clothing other than as required under legislation

Administrative employees are entitled to request the provision of protective clothing, other than personal protective clothing as required under legislation, in certain circumstances. Refer to attachment one for the Request for Protective Clothing form.
When requested, risk assessments will be undertaken by each health service district/work unit to determine the level of need for protective clothing having regard to:

- potential damage
- soiling and infection control risks
- work of a particularly dirty nature
- work which may damage normal clothing.

When it is deemed appropriate through the risk assessment process, administrative stream employees will be provided with suitable protective clothing.

In emergent situations, when requested, Queensland Health will make protective clothing available to administrative stream employees within the location on the basis of the protective clothing stock options available in the health service district.

Health service districts will be responsible for the purchase and supply and laundering of protective clothing (as required).
