

Queensland Basic Physician Training (Adult Medicine) Network

FAQs - apply to join the network to commence training

Should I apply to the network?

If you're considering commencing basic physician training in Queensland, you must apply to join the network. However, first discuss your plans for physician training with a Royal Australasian College of Physicians (RACP) Director of Physician Education (DPE) or Educational Supervisor (ES). This ensures you make an informed decision about pursuing a career as a physician. You'll find a DPE or ES within the department of medicine at any RACP-accredited hospital listed on the RACP webpage.

Am I eligible?

You're eligible if prior to commencement of training you:

- hold general registration with the Medical Board of Australia
- are eligible for registration with the RACP as a basic trainee
- qualify as postgraduate year three (PGY3) or above

How long will I be training on the network?

If successful, you'll be offered a 3-year training position to enable you to meet RACP requirements. A further year will be available if:

- in consultation with your DPE you elect to delay an examination attempt
- you fail an examination attempt

Continuation on the network is subject to satisfactory performance, receipt of two satisfactory referee reports and DPE approval annually.

When and how do I apply?

Submit your application from 5 June to 3 July 2023, via the RMO Campaign and select the following:

- Are you applying for a position on the Qld basic physician training network? Select YES

- Are you currently training on the Queensland Basic Physician Training Network? Select NO

Complete all subsequent questions and upload the following:

1. An up-to-date copy of your curriculum vitae
2. A completed Planning for Physician Training form
3. A completed clinical experience template outlining the last three years of experience.

Your experience in general medicine OR medical specialties as outlined in the Medical Experience document will contribute towards merit ranking.

Your application and referee reports will also be assessed to determine eligibility and shortlisting for interview.

What level position should I apply for (Registrar or SHO)?

If successful, you'll be employed as either a Senior House Officer (SHO) or registrar for your first year of training. All subsequent years will be completed in registrar level positions. You should nominate a position level that you would be comfortable working and commencing training in. Registrar applicants are expected to achieve the registrar standard on interview and SHO applicants are expected to achieve the SHO standard. Certain hospitals offer only SHO level positions to first year trainees. Depending on the position level that you preference, certain training allocations may not be possible. Sample 3-year training allocations, highlighting position levels available to first year trainees at specific hospitals, are provided in the how to apply guide.

Do I need to apply for the training program separately from recruitment?

No. You'll submit one application for both. Simply nominate the network as your first preference (see how to apply guide).

Medical Vocational Training Pathways

Queensland Rural Medical Service
A unit of Darling Downs Health

Queensland
Government

Use preferences 2–5 to select alternate non-training positions in case you're not selected into the network. Once selected, you'll need to finalise your registration with the RACP to commence training. DPEs will only endorse RACP registration for successful network trainees.

Will I be required to participate in an interview?

If you're shortlisted – yes. In anticipation of this, you're advised to prepare to interview. You'll be notified in July and, if shortlisted, invited to an interview session.

When are the interviews?

Interviews will be held in August as follows:

Tuesday 1 & Wednesday 2 – Northside

Thursday 3 - North Qld (Townsville)

Friday 4 - Far North (Cairns)

Wednesday 9 & Thursday 10 – Southside

Friday 11 - Coastal

Note: In person or virtual attendance requirements will vary between rotations.

What can I expect at the interview?

The interview will assess you against specific selection criteria (see how to apply guide).

Interviews are a six station Multiple Mini Interview assessment with each station covering a specific domain e.g. communication.

Will I get my first preference?

After interview, you'll be merit ranked and notified of the outcome by late August. Network trainees complete training within one rotation across 2-3 hospitals. When choosing preferences, consider the unique merits offered by each rotation including proximity of hospitals and training opportunities available. You'll be allocated hospital placements based on your preferences, merit ranking, training requirements (including when you wish to sit the exam) and available positions. You'll be asked to nominate hospital and term preferences only after you're offered a network training place (post interview).

Do I have to rotate between hospitals?

Yes. Network training is intended to facilitate a breadth of experiences in different contexts. You'll benefit from the unique and complementary opportunities offered by placements in hospitals throughout Queensland which will aid your preparation for RACP exams.

Who will arrange my employment contract?

Hospitals arrange employment contracts annually as advised by the network. Appointments will consist of either 2 x 6 or 1 x 12-month contracts in line with your allocations.

How will hospital placements be set out?

A 3-year program will vary between different rotations. For example, Northside / Southside rotations will include:

- (a) One 12-month placement to cover the first year of training
- (b) At least one 6-month placement in a level 1 or 2 hospital outside of Southeast Queensland
- (c) At least 12 months in a level 3 (large tertiary) training hospital

North Queensland trainees will be based in Townsville with a placement at Mt Isa. Coastal trainees will complete placements across 3 local hospitals and Far North trainees will be based in Cairns with a placement at either Atherton, Innisfail or Mt Isa. Variations are possible, dependent upon training needs and preferences.

When do I commence training?

You'll commence in your network position in early 2024. The local DPE will endorse your RACP basic training application so that you can finalise registration with the RACP by end of February.

Can I request to change my allocations?

Network trainees must commit to prospectively allocated placements for the duration of basic training (up to 3 years). If special circumstances affect your ability to comply with this, you can apply for special consideration for alternate allocation. You must contact your NRC in the first instance to make the request and discuss the process and possible options.

Further information

Further information can be found on the network webpage or by contacting the Physician Training team via email

Physician_Training@health.qld.gov.au

Version date: March 2023