

BABY'S BEST PROTECTION IS YOU.

WHOOPING COUGH VACCINATION

Vaccination during each pregnancy is the most effective way for a mother to protect herself and her baby against whooping cough.

- Free vaccine for women in their third trimester (preferably between 28 and 32 weeks)
- Protects babies until they are old enough to be vaccinated (from six weeks)
- Safe for mother and baby
- Mothers need vaccination with each pregnancy

BOOK YOUR THIRD TRIMESTER VACCINATION NOW.

For more information,
ask your GP, obstetrician or

Vaccination Matters

Queensland
Government

NO ONE PROTECTS THEM LIKE YOU CAN.

INFLUENZA VACCINATION

Vaccination during pregnancy is the most effective way for a mother to protect herself and her baby against influenza. It provides ongoing protection to baby after birth for the first few months of life.

- Free vaccine for all pregnant women
- Safe at any stage during pregnancy
- Safe with whooping cough vaccine
- Mothers need vaccination with each pregnancy

BOOK YOUR INFLUENZA VACCINATION NOW.

For more information,
ask your GP, obstetrician or

Vaccination Matters

Queensland
Government

