

QG Breakfast Series

6 August 2019 event - transcript

Interviews with attendees – what guests hope to take away

NICOLE DUKE from Queensland Corrective Services: My second breakfast and it was excellent last year with the opportunity to network and hear what agencies are doing to promote women.

LUCY ROCKET, Southern Regional Manager of Probation and Parole: Hoping to take away maybe some networking.

FEMALE: I'm hoping to hear some good speakers and maybe win something in the raffle.

MALE: Of course, everyone's here for the raffle. And what about you, what are you hoping to take away:

FEMALE: Good morning. Look I'm actually just looking forward to meeting other colleagues in other related areas so that would be great.

KAYLA: I am Kayla from OQPC and I'm really interested in hearing more about artificial intelligence.

MALE: And what about you, where are you from and what you're hoping to take away today.

MANDY: Yeah, hi, my name is Mandy, I'm from QPC and like Kayla interested in the artificial intelligence because I think over time it is going to impact everybody across business and government, so.

NANCY: I'm Nancy and I'm from Premier and Cabinet and I'm really looking forward to hearing what Brett Hall has to say about technology and the future of work.

FEMALE: I'm from the Department of Premier and Cabinet in the Events team, I'm just looking forward to hearing the conversations today, yeah, really interested.

LISA: So my name's Lisa I'm from the Department of Premier and Cabinet, I suppose I'm interested in hearing more about the role that women can play in technology. It's not something I've got a background in so I'm really interested in hearing more about it.

MALE: Where are you from and what are you hoping to take away from today?

MALE: I'm from Business Partnership Improvement Branch so the team's actually help me coordinate today's lovely event. And you need to come along and hear what the speakers today are hoping to share with us and just enjoy networking with all the lovely people of Queensland Health.

FEMALE: So I'm from the Ethics Area in State Development and I'm interested in finding out I guess ways that we can improve our work and really use new technology to help our clients.

FEMALE: I'm from State Development as well and just using this as a networking opportunity.

LISA: My name is Lisa, I'm from the Investment Attraction Unit within State Development and look I've come around here today to really just network and meet some new people and get a better idea of how government's working within this area.

MALE: Does technology frighten anyone in this room? Does it frighten you?

FEMALE: No, not really. It is the way of the future. Whether we like it or not I think it's going to be something that will make our lives either better and give us a better way of being innovative I guess.

SHARON: Sharon Duclofski and I work for Dr Young, Chief Health Officer, and hope to take away from today I'm not very verse on technology so I've got an open mind and willing to take anything in today.

FEMALE: So just hoping to listen to the great speakers that are on today, see what they've got to offer. There's always great speakers at these breakfasts and hopefully take away some new skills.
