Language Codes by Alphabetical order

From 1st July 2011 a new language classification was implemented in Queensland Health (QH). The new language classification is a modified version of the Australian Bureau of Statistics Australian Standard Classification of Languages (ASCL), Second Edition (ABS Cat. No. 1267.0) and allows the use of synonyms and sub-languages which map to a core language category (e.g. Sardinian to Italian). This enhancement greatly improves how preferred language is recorded in QH systems and facilitates better supply of interpreter services in public health care facilities.
