

Palliative Care Resources: a selection for care of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples Resources for Health Professionals

 Advance Care Planning Australia BE OPEN BE READY BE HEARD	Advance Care Planning Australia A range of resources, learning and information about advance care planning Advance Care Planning for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples https://www.advancecareplanning.org.au/understand-advance-care-planning/advance-care-planning-for-aboriginal-and-torres-strait-islander-peoples
 AAG Australian Association of Gerontology	The Australian Association of Gerontology [AAG] is Australia's peak national body linking professionals working across the multidisciplinary field of ageing. https://www.aag.asn.au/ The report 'Appropriate aged care needs assessment for older Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people: What needs to be done' was formally launched at the joint Healing Foundation/ATSIAG 'Stolen Generation in Aged Care Forum' in 2019. Appropriate aged care needs assessment for older Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
 Australian Indigenous HealthInfoNet	Australian Indigenous HealthInfoNet http://www.healthinfonet.ecu.edu.au/health-infrastructure/health-workers Indigenous palliative care web pages. These pages provide some references and information about palliative care for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. http://www.healthinfonet.ecu.edu.au/related-issues/palliative-care
 CARESEARCH palliative care knowledge network	CareSearch – Indigenous Palliative Care Project aimed to respond to the findings of the National Indigenous Palliative Care Needs Study for practice principles and educational resources to support mainstream health providers in providing culturally appropriate palliative care to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. There is information on the CareSearch website that may be of relevance and interest to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, families, and community, and to the health professionals who are looking after them. This collection of resources brings all of this information into one place, and is an interim solution to bring together commonly sought information. WARNING: The CareSearch site may contain images of, or have references to, deceased people. There may also be words or descriptions that could be culturally sensitive and upsetting to some Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. No disrespect or distress to users of the website is intended. https://www.caresearch.com.au/Health-Professionals/Aboriginal-and-Torres-Strait-Islander-Care
 caring@home Symptom management resources for palliative patients	caring@home resources for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families Tailored resources for families, health professionals and clinical services to support the provision of palliative care at home for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. The following resources are available: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Resources for families • Resources for health professionals • Resources for clinical services Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families resources (caringathomeproject.com.au)
 ELLC End of Life Law for Clinicians	End of Life Law for Clinicians – Australian Centre for Health Law Research Accurate and practical information including learning modules, to navigate challenging legal issues that can arise with end of life decision-making. Abroad introduction to end of life law to help know the law, your rights & duties. https://end-of-life.gut.edu.au

Palliative Care Resources: a selection for care of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples Resources for Health Professionals

	Gwandalan Supporting Palliative Care for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Communities https://gwandalanpalliativecare.com.au
	The Institute for Urban Indigenous Health [IUIH] unites, integrates and leads community-controlled health services in Southeast Queensland. Using the IUIH Model of Care, the Institute is empowering communities in Southeast Queensland to take responsibility for the delivery of health services to Indigenous Australians, by Indigenous Australians. http://www.iuih.org.au/
	Palliative Care Australian [PCA] has developed resources to assist the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples, their communities, and health professionals working within communities to ensure approaches and practices are culturally safe and respectful. https://palliativecare.org.au/resource/aboriginal-and-torres-strait-islander-peoples-palliative-care-resources/ https://palliativecare.org.au/resource/discussing-choices-indigenous-advance-care-planning/
	Indigenous Program of Experience in the Palliative Approach [IPEPA] provides placements with specialist palliative care teams, and workshops for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Workers and Liaison Officers. https://pepaeducation.com/
	Pop Arthur A comic book written to assist Indigenous families to better understand what is meant by 'advance care yarning' and quality of life issues for people who are dying. http://issuu.com/amamood/docs/2012-6-7_poparthur_web?e=1025237/2738669
	Queensland Aboriginal and Islander Health Council [QAIHC], Mission: To advocate for and provide effective and efficient corporate and health service support to Community Controlled Health Services and communities in Queensland to facilitate access to comprehensive primary health care responsive to the needs of local communities and integrated into the health system in Queensland. http://www.qaihc.com.au/resources
	Rural and Remote Health [RRH], Article: Considering Aboriginal palliative care models: the challenges for mainstream services (2012) This review discusses palliative care and end-of-life models of care for Aboriginal people in the Australian state New South Wales and considers Aboriginal palliative care needs by reflecting on recent literature and lessons derived from Aboriginal consultation. http://www.rrh.org.au/publishedarticles/article_print_2339.pdf
	Sad News, Sorry Business Guidelines for caring for Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander through death and dying' was researched and developed by the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Cultural Capability Team. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people should be warned that this document refers to the sensitive issue of death and dying. http://qheps.health.qld.gov.au/atsihb/docs/sorry_business.pdf